NEW CUSHIONS

GRAPHICS JURAJ STRAKA, 2026

BOUCAN LEAVES THE WALL AND SETTLES IN

After lighting fixtures, mirrors and wall hooks, the Boucan universe expands into textiles. Ibride unveils a new family of velvet cushions, designed exclusively by Juraj Straka: eight patterns that extend the collection into the living space, from the wall to the sofa.

Each cushion acts as a fragment of a larger mural. Panther, toucan, hummingbird, flamingo, parrot, zebra and floral motifs populate the velvet surface with the same graphic richness as the wall pieces that came before them. Displayed individually or layered together, Boucan cushions do not simply complement an interior; they introduce a presence.

A canopy. A scene. A domestic forest.

Available in two sizes, 50 x 20 cm and 30 x 50 cm, Boucan fits seamlessly into any interior.

Crafted in the Vosges and assembled and distributed from Ibride's workshop in Besançon, Boucan cushions reflect the brand's commitment to carefully controlled French manufacturing.
